PACIFIC AVENUE

NEW HOUSES ARE MAKING IT A CENTER OF BUILDING ACTIVITY

Pacific avenue is quite a center of building activity just now and it is not surprising when one visits that pleasant district and observes what fine views are to be had of the mountains to the north and the Griffith Park and more western hills. At 523 W. S. Caldwell is putting up a bungalow of six spacious rooms of excellent redwood exterior. The interior is divided into living-room, dining-room, kitchen, two bedrooms, a sleeping porch and breakfast room. There is also a small cellar. It is being constructed for C. O. Gunnerson. Just back of it, facing on the next street north, Mr. Caldwell will erect a duplicate of the house now going up. He is likewise building a smaller bungalow on Myrtle, and still another roomy bungalow on Broadway between Columbus and Central which has an odd "rubble" roof of paper, tar, and broken brick which is quite effective in appearance. This last house, which has a wide porch across the front with French doors opening onto it, has also another porch on the side which makes a pleasant variation from the conventional.

Double living rooms occupy the front of the house which faces south. It is shaped like the letter A, the two rooms mentioned forming the top. Behind them is the dining room which opens onto a paved court, the leg of the A on one side being composed of two bedrooms and a bathroom, on the other side of a kitchen and breakfast room.

George G. Prickett is putting the finishing touches on quite an attractive Colonial bungalow with white exterior and green roof at Hawthorne and Pacific. It contains a big dining-room, small kitchen and delightful little breakfast nook, nice living room, two bedrooms which open onto a central hall, has a very modern tiled bathroom and an up-to-date heating system of gas radiators with ventilators going out through the roof. He began it the second day of November and expects to have it completed and ready for occupancy by Christmas. He expects to start another house across the street in about ten days.

B. L. Cline, who is doing some work for the Bentley-Schoeneman Company on Allis Bungalow Grocery and garage, just across the street from the Prickett House, has a contract for a seven-room house at Central and Burchett for Harry Blumenthal, which he will occupy as a home. It is of Colonial style and is to be finished in about five weeks.

DEATH OF RUSSELL L. SQUIER

After years of ill health, Russell L. Squier, a veteran of the Civil war, who for a number of years has resided at 918 North Louise, passed away Tuesday, December 2d. Funeral services are being held this afternoon at Sawtelle, where interment will take place in the national cemetery for soldiers, the services being in charge of Pulliam & Kiefer of this city. Deceased leaves a widow, Ada L. Squier, and a daughter well known in this city, Miss Emily Squier who is engaged in literary work in Los Angeles. Mrs. Squier and her daughter will be located at 715-A East Twenty-seventh street, Los Angeles, from now on.

GLENDALE'S NEEDS

SPENCER ROBINSON URGES CO-OPERATIVE EFFORT TO ESTABLISH BUILDING SOCIETY

Spencer Robinson declares the most urgent need of Glendale at present is an institution corresponding to a building and loan association and that if he had available capital he would start one. He gave the service in days gone by, when he ran across a man who had a clear lot he wished to improve but who needed financial help to build his house. He says he knows of three men who have money to put into lots if some one will finance the buildings they want to construct. He thinks if a few men would chip in and form what the poker players call "a jack pot" to furnish the initial capital that such an association could be started and the money would be turned over quickly because so many are coming who want homes, and they can be so quickly built in this climate. If it is not done there will be danger of strangulation from the congestion of population and even if it does not become so serious as that the growth we might so easily have will be crippled.

NEW ENGLAND DINNER

EX-CLUB OFFICIALS ENTERTAINED WITH OLD-FASHIONED "DOWN EAST" SPREAD

Mrs. Andrew Findlay of 820 South Central avenue entertained at a function which she called a luncheon, but which more resembled a dinner, members of the official board of the Tuesday Afternoon Club for 1918-19. As the ladies constituting that group came from different parts of the country, each one, when entertaining her associates has tried to serve dishes typical of the part of the United States from which she came. Mrs. Findlay was a New Englander, and she served an old-fashioned, "down east" boiled dinner, beginning with an oyster cocktail, including a characteristic salad, and ending for a dessert with an Indian cornmeal pudding. The Christmas colors, red and green, featured the decorations and appointments, the table being centered with hawthorn berries from the hostess' garden with suitable greenery, the same colors being repeated in the nut baskets. An informal social afternoon followed the dinner, which was enjoyed by the following ladies: Mesdames W. W. Ramsay, E. D. Yard, Freeman Kelley, Harry Duffield, John Robert White, C. E. Norton and Mrs. E. H. Willisford, and Mrs. Findlay, Mrs. W. F. Nash being unable to be present.

NEW HOUSES

Recent contracts undertaken by the Bentley-Schoeneman Company include:

A seven-room bungalow at 335 W. Lexington for W. M. Kimball, who recently sold his place on West Maple street.

A five-room Colonial bungalow at 305 North Cedar for Lester Jones, which will have hardwood floors throughout, a tile floor on the bathroom with built-in tub, and tile sink-board.

A two-story house for Mark B. Harris of Colonial style at 524 N. Central. It will contain seven large rooms and be thoroughly modern.

A bungalow grocery and garage at the corner of Pacific and Hawthorne for A. N. Allis.

Mr. Bentley says there is no indication of any reduction in building materials. On the contrary there are threats of advance and persons who delay building waiting for cheap construction are making a great mistake.

Bentley-Schoeneman are getting out plans for several other bungalows that will be started in the near future.

LITERARY SECTION

About twenty-three were present at the meeting of the Literary Section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club held Tuesday at the home of the Curator, Mrs. Charles Hutchinson on Orange street. Mrs. Needham gave current events in inventions, Mrs. Harriet White current events in art, literature and religion.

The balance of the program was a symposium on "The Spirit of Christmas." Mrs. A. N. Williams gave the "Spirit of Christmas in the Home" and asked Mrs. Rowe, Mrs. Gregg, Mrs. Dunn, Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Ocker and Mrs. Ayars to give in one sentence their idea of the Spirit of Christmas in the Home. Mrs. E. H. Bartlett reviewed the Spirit of Christmas in the community in both ancient and modern times, and Mrs. Willisford gave a few thoughts on Christmas in the church.

A fine paper on Armenian art was read by Mrs. Anna Williams.

MATTISON B. JONES SELLS

Mr. and Mrs. Mattison B. Jones have just sold their home at 340 North Orange street to Dr. Kammerling of Los Angeles, who, it is rumored, has purchased the practice of a local physician. Mr. and Mrs. Jones will give possession about the first of January and will transfer their residence to a bungalow they own at 208 South Brand boulevard which has been occupied for the past six years by Dr. I. H. Durfee. He surrenders its possession reluctantly but has secured a shelter by buying the Seng property at 310 East California, consisting of a store and cottage, well adapted to his needs as he will convert the store into an office and live in the cottage. He will vacate his present residence about the 16th of this month. Mr. and Mrs. Jones are planning to build a permanent home in the near future on property they own on Kennel Road between the Toll and Campbell residences.

WEATHER FORECAST: Unsettled weather; probable rain, moderate temperatures.

MEXICAN SITUATION

CHARGED WITH EXPLOSIVE ELEMENTS WHICH MAY BRING ABOUT ARMED INTERVENTION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

EL PASO, Dec. 4.—It is agreed along the border that the Mexican situation now contains certain explosive elements which may bring eventual intervention. These factors are:

Senator Fall's committee of investigation on Mexican affairs in which hearings will be held in Los Angeles, El Paso and other cities. Senator Fall promises some startling evidence on the Mexican situation.

Reports that Carranza representatives are negotiating for the shipment of quantities of munitions from Spain.

The case of Consular Agent Jenkins.

The fact that more Americans are now in Mexico than at any time since President Taft warned Americans to leave Mexico.

At Parral Americans are sleeping nightly in a stockade with arms handy.

Scores of Americans have flocked into the Tampico oil fields and the silver mining regions of Mexico.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—At a conference of three regional directors of the railway administration held here this morning it was decided to curtail all passenger train service on all lines from Chicago to the Pacific coast by one-third, beginning December 8. All special trains for any purpose will be eliminated. Overflow traffic must await later trains. No parlor or lounge cars will be allowed. The order will not eliminate mail and express trains excepting to prevent additional trains from being operated to handle the holiday traffic.

WATCHFUL WAITING ON TREATY

PRESIDENT BELIEVES ARGUMENT IS NOW USELESS AND THAT NEED OF RATIFICATION WILL FORCE ACTION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The president is applying "watchful waiting" to the peace treaty and is keeping his hands off of the situation because he believes that argument now is useless and he expects a wave of public sentiment, soon to force the Senate to ratify the treaty. This was the general understanding in authoritative administration circles today while administration leaders predicted that the need of ratification will steadily become more pressing.

These leaders interpret the South Dakota indorsement of Wilson for a third term as a demand for the ratification of the treaty.

IRISH SITUATION

LLOYD GEORGE HOPES IT WILL NOT BE NECESSARY TO SUSPEND TRIAL BY JURY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Dec. 4.—Premier Lloyd George, addressing the House of Commons this afternoon said that he hoped it would not be necessary to suspend trial by jury in Ireland. It had been reported that the cabinet had decided to suspend jury trials because of the impossibility of securing convictions in Ireland of persons charged with terrorism.

Lloyd George expressed the hope that the peace treaty could be made effective by the end of this month.

The annual election of officers of the Glendale Congregational Church took place Wednesday evening, following the regular prayer service, at which a goodly number of members were present. The following slate of officers was chosen:

Clerk, Mrs. H. W. Yarrick.

Treasurer, Mrs. A. R. Chappell.

Deacons, George E. Adams and A. A. Richards, each for three years.

Deaconesses, Mrs. George F. Colson and Mrs. Ray A. Phillips, each for three years.

Sunday School officers and officers of the Woman's Auxiliary and Women's Missionary Society will be elected in the near future.

The committee which has had charge of the canvass for funds to build a new church presented a very complete report which showed that $26,000 had been fully subscribed, friends of the church having guaranteed $2500 of this amount when the period allotted for the canvass expired December 1st. Some money has already been paid on these subscriptions and more will be received in the near future. H. W. Yarrick was elected chairman of the new church committee to complete the work of the canvass committee.

The committee on church plans was instructed to expedite its work as much as possible and be prepared to present a report at the annual dinner and meeting of the church January 14th when officials and heads of all departments of church work will present reports. This church planning committee will visit a number of churches recently built or in process of construction to get ideas which will be incorporated in its report.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETING

Quite an important meeting of the Board of Directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce was held Tuesday evening at the City Hall. It was called to order by President R. M. Jackson and the shortage of houses was discussed and the need of shelters to accommodate people coming here. A housing committee to see what arrangements can be made to secure tent houses was appointed consisting of J. E. Peters, W. P. MacMullin and Mrs. Stockbridge.

Complaints that the telegraph office is not open at all times and that important messages had been held from one day to the next were reported to the board and a committee of investigation was appointed consisting of Dr. Russell, O. A. Lane and Eva Daniels.

Still another committee was appointed to collect statistics relative to the P. E. car service in Glendale and to report to the Board the number of passengers carried per day, the percentage who have to stand, the number of trains run, etc. That committee was made up of Dr. Russell, J. E. Peters and Charles E. Rudel.

RETURN TO THE EAST

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Nesbit and family, who had resided in Glendale for about a year, have gone back to Fort Wayne, Ind., which is Mrs. Nesbit's old home. She will visit friends there while Mr. Nesbit awaits assignment to a new field. He is in the employ of the Emerson Efficiency Company of New York, which sends him wherever his services are most needed to make surveys of large business establishments and show them how to conduct their business more efficiently and save waste.

MR. BARTLETT'S RAIN GAUGE SHOWS TOTAL OF 1.35 INCHES FOR PRESENT STORM

H. E. Bartlett, Glendale's weather man, reports that 1.35 inches rain fell last night and up to seven o'clock this morning. This brings the total rainfall for this season up to 5.10 inches. Up to this date last year only 3.89 inches had fallen.

SCHOOLBOY ACTOR

HOWARD RALSTON PLAYING LEAD WITH MARY PICKFORD IN "POLLYANNA"

Howard Ralston, the fifteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Ralston of 501 W. Colorado, has been having a delightful experience and at the same time pulling down a fine salary as leading man playing the part of Jimmy Bean in "Pollyanna," Mary Pickford's new play. Those who have witnessed the production say it is one of her best picture plays and that it abounds in beautiful scenes in which "Jimmy" as Pollyanna's sweetheart, has a part.

Howard has been at work about sixteen weeks and the play is nearly finished. Lottie Pickford will be featured in the next picture and whether there will be a part to which Howard is adapted is not yet known. He is keeping at his High School work, giving four hours a day, with the aid of a tutor to the lessons assigned him by his teachers in G. U. H. S. The director of "Pollyanna" is enthusiastic over Howard's work and told Mrs. Ralston he had no hope of finding a boy for the part capable of doing so well.

The Ralston children are accustomed to acting, having been almost brought up on the stage by their professional parents, and they have always worked together as a family. During the summer Esther Ralston played the lead as "Mary Jane" in Lewis Sargent's "Huckleberry Finn." It will probably be released this month. "Pollyanna's" release will very likely be delayed until spring.

Clarence Ralston had a nice bit of work as a bridegroom recently in a Metro picture entitled "Old Lady Thirty-One." He and Esther have been doing a good deal of transient work at the studios averaging about two days a week, and Mrs. Ralston is busy most of the time.

BEAUTIFUL FOOTHILL MANSION

R. W. Whiteman of New Orleans will soon build a beautiful home in North Glendale. Mr. Whiteman is in the east on a business trip at present and when he returns will pass on the sketches which are being worked up by H. D. Charlton, also of New Orleans but for many years a resident of Glendale. The house is to be of Spanish design, it will contain eleven rooms and three baths and will be of hollow tile construction. It is to cost, when completed, about $15,000.

HELEN HUGHES SLIGHTLY BETTER

Little Helen Hughes of 220 West Garfield avenue, who was seriously injured in a street car accident at Brand and Park avenue Wednesday morning, is pronounced slightly better this morning by the surgeons who are attending her at the Glendale Sanitarium where she was taken immediately following the event. She is still unconscious though she rallies at times to ask for water. The surgical examination showed that she had been struck on the back of the head and this is the cause of unconsciousness. No other injuries were found and hopes of her recovery are entertained. Her mother was summoned from Los Angeles and was with her during the afternoon and night.

A CONSISTENT CLUBWOMAN

The death of Mrs. C. H. Ritchie, over whose body funeral services were held Wednesday, was quite a blow to Mrs. Mattison B. Jones and other prominent club women of this city. She had been president of the District Congress of Mothers and was a member of the Executive Board of the District Federation of Clubs during Mrs. Jones' administration when they were closely associated. She had also been president of the Sunshine Society of Venice. Of her Mrs. Jones says: "She was one of the few women doing public work who carried out what she preached." As an instance of her consistent action Mrs. Jones cited her adoption of a little girl whom she found being ill treated and living in very squalid conditions. This child has since had every advantage and has been given a fine musical education. Mrs. Ritchie had always been engaged in philanthropic work and will be missed not only in her own community but all over Southern California. She will be deeply mourned by her husband—prominent in Masonic circles, and by her two sons, one of whom will soon be graduated from Throop College of Technology. The funeral services were very largely attended.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 4, 1919

COLLECT INDUSTRIAL DATA

In answer to inquiries from every part of the United States and abroad, the Home Industry League of California is this week at work on plans to tabulate data on all the industrial plants in California. The preliminary work will consist of arranging detailed information regarding the location of factories, the character of commodities produced and the number of persons employed. Later the system will be amplified and compiled in book form for distribution. This work has never before been attempted, and it is believed the compendium will do much to stimulate interest in the demand for California-made goods.

Circulars have been forwarded to city clerks, chambers of commerce and civic organizations in every city and town in the state, asking their cooperation. The objects are briefly explained in a circular that is being sent out by the Home Industry League. In part it says: "The purpose of this compilation is to list all the manufacturing plants in the state of California. These lists will be placed in the hands of the purchasing powers of the big corporations, state and county governments, foreign consulates, eastern and middle west chambers of commerce, with our federal representatives who are stationed abroad, and with others where it is considered advisable.

"There is no charge for this service, but we hope through this medium to keep the manufactured goods of California before the purchasing powers of the country."

"It is a mighty healthy sign," said Edward H. Brown, manager of the league, "when day after day the mail contains letters from all parts of the country asking where a certain line of California-made goods can be bought. It shows that the eyes of the buyers are turned this way.

"It is our intention to first prepare a tabulation of the most important data on California manufacturing industries. Only three or four cities in the state at present have anything definite in the way of information. It should be a carefully prepared statement covering the entire field, and this is the plan we have in view.

"When the tabulation is completed it will be prepared in book form for distribution. Then we will see that it is on file in every district throughout the world where there is a market for goods produced in California."

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Bales have returned to their home at 320 N. Jackson street after a four months' stay at Pawhuske, Oklahoma, where Mr. Bales was in charge of an ice plant.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Gillam have rented their home at 107 E. Lomita and have purchased the house at 203 W. Maple, where they are now living.

William Farlander has gone to the Imperial Valley on a business trip and will have a chance to enjoy the celebration of the completion of the railroad which now connects the valley with San Diego and which will soon give it a direct outlet to Yuma.

Mr. A. W. Dickinson of 220 N. Central has left for his semi-annual trip east to attend a convention as representative of Marshall Field Co. He is taking with him his young son, Marshall Bingham, who will visit his grandparents, Mr. Dickinson's parents, in Chicago.

Leonard Gasser of Toledo, Ohio, is the guest of his aunt, Mrs. T. A. Wright of 141 North Louise street. He has been sent out to cover this territory for the sale of Champion spark plugs manufactured by the firm by which he is employed, and he will probably be here until after the holidays.

The La Canada Congregational Church, of which Rev. Selwyn Evans is pastor, will celebrate Fellowship Night this evening. Rev. Isaac, acting pastor of the Eagle Rock Church, and Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Wilford of the Congregational Church of this city will be guests and speakers.

E. W. Hayward and a relative, Miss Clara Stevens, from Connecticut, reached Glendale Tuesday, to spend the winter here. Mr. Hayward will be with his son, E. W. Hayward, of 116 West Lomita, and Miss Stevens will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Hayward on West Lexington Drive.

An eight-pound girl who received a warm welcome arrived Saturday morning, November 29, 1919, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Tarr at 718 South Glendale avenue. She has been named Patricia for the Princess Pat, so greatly beloved by the Canadian soldiers. The little girl's father is an ex-service man.

Mrs. Charles Hutchinson, who is vice president and organizing officer of the District Federation of Parent Teacher Associations, visited Huntington Park Wednesday to address the parent-teacher associations of that city in regard to affiliating with the district and state organizations. The meeting was largely attended and the suggestion met with favor.

Mrs. Johnston of 145 North Louise street has gone to San Francisco to visit a relative, Braman Loveless, and plans to be gone about a month.

Rev. and Mrs. John M. Barnhart of Alhambra will be guests this afternoon and tomorrow of Rev. and Mrs. Clyde Monroe Crist, of 315 N. Jackson street.

Mrs. Eustace B. Moore of South Maryland avenue, who went to Sanger, Cal., to be the Thanksgiving guest of her aunt, Mrs. C. H. Sloan, and who was expected home this week, is remaining until the middle of December to assist Mrs. Sloan in concert work.

Two new comers who are not worrying about accommodations have arrived. One is the seven-pound daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Gaede of 435 Stocker street, born December 3, 1919. The other stranger is a seven and a half pound daughter, born December 4, 1919, to Mr. and Mrs. Frederick B. Walker, of 710 East Harvard street. She has been named Rose Mary Gertrude Walker.

Reciprocity days are the order in clubdom. This is the day on which the Huntington Park Women's Club entertains the clubs of the district and Mrs. Mattison B. Jones of this city, past president of the district has been invited to give a word of greeting. She expects to talk on "How History Repeats Itself" and to compare the unrest that followed the civil war with present conditions. At that time they put some of the blame on the women promoting the women's suffrage campaign, headed by Susan B. Anthony. Now, Mrs. Jones argues, the troubles of the times should be sooner rectified because women have been given suffrage and can now work shoulder to shoulder with their brothers and husbands in curing the evils of society and the discontent of the masses.

CHURCH NIGHT AT CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Church Night was observed in the usual manner at the Central Christian Church Wednesday evening, between fifty and sixty attending the supper and the prayer meeting and Bible Study which followed. The nominating committee of the Sunday School also held a meeting the results of which will be reported next Wednesday evening. Today Rev. Clifford Cole, pastor of the church is to make several addresses at the annual State Sunday School Convention which is being held in Whittier. It is a big, inter-denominational affair which always attracts audiences of between two and three thousand persons. Rev. Cole will be accompanied by Mrs. Cole and by Miss Laura Wilford Brown, head of the primary department of the Sunday School. It is probable that others will go from here.

PUSS IN THE CORNER

The game of puss in the corner is still going on in realty circles. Gibson Kelly, for example, has sold his house at 1146 East Lexington to J. M. Spear, who has come here from Sierra Madre. Mr. Kelly in turn has bought from H. M. Cameron a house at 425 North Louise street. Mr. Cameron, it is reported, will buy a lot and build anew.

F. G. Farner, of 604 North Glendale, has sold to James L. Donnelly of Minneapolis, Minn., who is already planning improvements with the intention of making it his permanent home.

Through the instrumentality of Messrs. Parker and Barstow, Mrs. Dora Gibson, the High School teacher at the head of the musical department has sold her property at 363 West Lexington Drive to Mrs. Cunningham. Mrs. Gibson wants to try life in an apartment.

BUSINESS MEN APPRECIATE UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA AMERICANIZATION WORK

That business men, and especially employers of labor, appreciate the work of the University of California Extension Division in its patriotic and practical courses in Americanization is the opinion of Professor Leon J. Richardson, Director of the Division.

"What interested me greatly in the Los Angeles classes which are now being concluded was the number of business men, employers of labor, who registered for the course given by John Collier of New York. The students were men who employed foreign-born workers and who realize that the assimilation of the foreigner is a most vital American problem."

The course in Americanization aims to train men and women in meeting the manifold problems arising in the assimilation of the alien into the freehold of good American citizenship. "In one sense," declared Director Richardson, "we are giving a normal training course, fitting teachers to handle foreign-born classes, but in a broader sense it is a study benefitting all persons who come in contact with aliens."

The staff conducting the course includes John Collier, director of the training school for community workers of New York and founder of 100 community centers in the metropolis, Carol Aronovici, director of Housing with the State Immigration and Housing Committee, and Dr. Roy W. Kelly, author of "Hiring the Worker," and a recognized expert on the handling of the alien in industry.

A large attendance from the San Joaquin valley is expected at the Fresno classes which begin December 8th. San Francisco lectures are scheduled to commence January 12th.

"Not only has our work in Americanization been approved by the State Board of Education," declared Professor Richardson, "but the State Superintendent of Instruction has announced that special teaching certificates in Americanization will be granted teachers, or normal school or college graduates who complete the course."

CITY PLANNING

By Wm. F. Bixby, C. E.

Precise location of pipes and other structures beneath the roadways and sidewalks, on maps, avoids the exploration beneath the surface for the purpose of finding what is wanted, when repairs are necessary.

A brief of every piece of property in the city would prove of vast help in future work.

A proper system of streets should be mapped out in advance of development, and the city, through its legislative body, should be committed to the plan, that property owners, in developing their property, would have to follow the lines laid out on the official plan. Lines of communication should be so planned that one can go from one part of the city to another and traverse the shortest possible distance in so doing.

Active construction work should be done by committees through which a survey of the wants of the community may be made. A survey of wants for a city would include a large scope: One city, one plan, diagonal boulevards, abundant water supply, storm drains, comprehensive sewer system, refuse receptacles and removal, clean-up days, comfort stations, rapid transit, removal of grade crossings, picturesque railway stations, civic and social centers, building restrictions, workmen's homes, one industrial district, parks, playgrounds, free tennis courts and golf links, open air stadium, new library, care of vacant lots, suppression of real estate signs and bill boards, excess condemnation, better light, better gas, fewer poles, more trees, ornamental lights, flower boxes on business streets, etc. The committee can act as a clearing house for ideas, recognizing that the city as a whole is wiser than any one citizen or committee.

It is desirable that the association be in a position to answer any question regarding the physical features of the city. An exhibit, with its backward look into the past and its forecast of a future, with a satisfactory representation of the present, goes a long way toward clarifying the vision of a city's possibilities, and the crystallizing of the city's mind on definite projects. The exhibit should be made a permanent feature where maps, diagrams, charts and reports can be seen and studied. For the historical section secure such photographs and relics of the pioneer period as may be obtained; anything in the possession of residents that might prove of interest to the community should be received and properly taken care of; such as pictures, maps and curios of former days.

California, thence northerly along the east line of said Lot 4 to the northeast corner thereof, thence northerly in a direct line to the southeast corner of Lot 12 of the H. M. Binford Tract as per map recorded in Book 10, page 28 of Maps, records of Los Angeles County, California, thence northerly along the east line of said Lot 12 to the point of beginning, excepting therefrom any portion of a public street or alley which may be included within the above described assessment district."

For the exhibit devoted to the city as it is today, photographs and models may be contributed by architects, builders and owners, of recent houses and business buildings. Add to this architectural exhibit from time to time, as houses, churches and other buildings are designed and built; keep this part of the exhibit strictly up-to-date.

Photographs of undesirable structures, unkempt lots, bill boards, and other blights to the beauty of the city, arranged around a map, with tags and strings indicating their exact location, will draw attention to the unsightly features and assist in their removal.

The exhibit should contain a city planning studio provided with a large drafting table. On easels and screens the studies for civic centers and other groups may be displayed. A set of maps can be prepared, maps showing the topography, the drainage, the street system, the parks, the boulevards, the transportation system, the water system, the fire zones, the industrial districts, etc.; a map may show the location of the alarm boxes and hydrants in the fire fighting system; another may show the lighting system; one map may show the location of all school houses and playgrounds; and a map may show the location of all street trees, with a complimentary map showing the streets and spaces without trees. Bring before the people in graphic form the practical possibilities of enhancing neighborhood life in their city.

A map showing land values throughout the city may be made with pegs cut to a scale of an inch in height representing $40 or $80. The pegs, placed upright in the middle of each block on a map of the city, will show graphically the value per front foot of the lots at that point. The highest pegs in the center of the city, where values run from $1000 to $2000 per front foot and upwards, the lowest pegs in the outlying districts, where values run as low as $10 per front foot. This map will bring vividly before the eyes of the variations in land values and the causes of depressed values can be investigated.

A study of the financial history and fiscal condition of the city, to ascertain facts upon which to develop a continuous and consistent financial program for a period of years to come, involves a study of the financial resources and civic expenditures for a number of years past and a comparison of these results with similar figures from other cities of about the same size. As the income depends upon both the tax rate and the assessed valuation both elements call for careful scrutiny. The city should anticipate its needs and develop a policy consistent with constant growth, rather than leave the question of taxes and income to a haphazard agitation. Financial charts should be constructed and arranged to show, in striking manner, all of the pertinent facts of the city's finances.

A permanent horticulture display will be a source of constant joy. The nurserymen of the city can send the best of their collections, the park department can furnish cut flowers, and individuals can contribute complimentary plants and flowers.

Circulation through the exhibit should be provided so that the public can see all details without interference. The atmosphere should be that of planning a future home in which every one who is to live in it has an opportunity to contribute something.

Advice should be secured from local experts; the superintendent of the lighting department could lay out a comprehensive plan for the installation of underground conduits, for the removal of poles, and for the gradual extension throughout the city of an ornamental street lighting system; from other authorities reports could be had upon housing, tree planting, removal of unsightly structures, restricting of buildings, etc. These reports, as received, should be given out through the local press, to develop the right attitude of mind, the desire to be informed. If they have in them any appeal at all they should be taken seriously enough to develop into realities; but projects, which affect the permanent city plan, are to be accepted only when it is certain that public opinion is strongly in favor of those improvements.

City planning projects need a large amount of constructive thinking to determine the city's actual future requirements and to develop an orderly program of accomplishment. They require: The mature thought, the fixed plan, the definite purpose—then, action.

BRITISH FILM PRODUCERS BUSY

By United Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Film producers of Great Britain are preparing to use California sunshine in their efforts to compete with American producers for supremacy of the screen.

One London producer is arranging to take an entire company to Los Angeles to produce "Love in a Wilderness." Madge Titherage, the popular London actress, will be the star.

One of the worst handicaps the Britishers have always suffered is chronic lack of sunshine, but they took hope from the success of New York producers who shot Rocky Mountain scenes in the Bronx last summer and South Sea Island stuff in Long Island Sound.

Trade reports from "the other side" show that British producers are beginning to get returns from a year's constructive drudgery. They have started propaganda imploring their countrymen to patronize "All-British films," whatever their technical flaws, in preference to American "trust" productions.

Thirty-five hundred tons of the 1918 crop of white beans have been sold by the California Bean Growers' association to the European Relief commission.

Terminals and a right of way for Pasadena's proposed municipal railway would cost $800,000, it is estimated.

The federal government through the forest service is now engaged on the Klamath River route.

The Auburn-Grass valley road will probably be completed in 1920.
